

XERISCAPE GARDENING SELECTED WEB SITES

<http://www.xeriscape.org/index.html>

(Colorado Water Wise Council Web site)

http://www.rinconwater.org/seven_principles_of_xeriscape.htm

(One of several Web sites listing and describing the Seven Principles of Xeriscape gardening)

<http://bcn.boulder.co.us/basin/local/misconcept.html>

(Xeriscape Misconceptions Corrected)

<http://www.ces.ncsu.edu/depts/hort/consumer/>

(NC State Cooperative Extension Service Urban Horticulture information)

http://www.bae.ncsu.edu/bae/programs/extension/publicat/wqwm/ag508_3/index.html

(North Carolina State University site includes links to lists of drought-tolerant vines, ground covers, ornamental grasses, small shrubs, medium shrubs, large shrubs, small trees, large trees, annuals, herbaceous perennials, and turf grasses)

<http://www.ncsu.edu/ncsu/CIL/WRRRI/uwc/xeriscape.pdf>

("Xeriscape North Carolina" booklet)

http://www.ces.ncsu.edu/nreos/forest/pdf/ag/ag636_03.pdf

("Landscaping for Wildlife with Native Plants")

<http://www.ncwildflower.org/index.htm#Table>

(North Carolina Native Plant Society Web site)

<http://ncbg.unc.edu/pages/44/>

(North Carolina Botanical Garden/Plants and Gardening/Native Southeastern Plants)

http://www.eartheasy.com/grow_xeriscape.htm

(Benefits of Xeriscape gardening and lists of appropriate plants; also describes the Seven Principles)

<http://www.nc-climate.ncsu.edu/climate/sandhills.html>

(North Carolina State Climate Office information, with a link to a map of the Sandhills)

<http://www2.turffiles.ncsu.edu/tims/>

(On-Line decision aid for irrigation help during droughts)

http://www.bae.ncsu.edu/bae/programs/extension/publicat/wqwm/ag508_1.html

(“Wise Water Use in Landscaping”)

http://www.bae.ncsu.edu/bae/programs/extension/publicat/wqwm/ag508_2.html

(“How to Plan & Design a Wise-Water-Use Landscape”)

<http://pubs.caes.uga.edu/caespubs/pubcd/B1073.htm>

(University of Georgia College of Agricultural and Environmental Sciences Guide to Developing a Water-Wise Landscape)

<http://www.rainbird.com/>

(“A Homeowner’s Guide to Water-Efficient Landscapes”)

<http://www.rainbarrelguide.com/>

(“Harvesting Rainwater with Rain Barrels, an Old Idea with a New Following”)

<http://www.planetnatural.com/planetnatural/images/ph-preference-list.pdf>

(List of plant pH requirements)

<http://homeharvest.com/flowersornamentalstreesshrubsphpreference.htm>

(List of plant pH requirements)

<http://guilford.ces.ncsu.edu/content/carolinayards/>

(NC Cooperative Extension pilot program)

<http://gardening.about.com/od/gardendesign/a/Xeriscaping.htm>

(Extensive information about Xeriscape gardening)

<http://landscaping.about.com/cs/cheaplandscaping1/a/xeriscaping.htm>

(Extensive information about Xeriscape gardening)

http://www.plantsafari.com/Catalog/Types/DroughtTolerant_8.html
(Extensive plant list and photos)

<http://www.successfulgardener.org/>
(NC State University Cooperative Extension "Successful Gardener" publication)

<http://www.drought.unl.edu/dm/monitor.html>
(United States Drought Monitor Map)

<http://www.ncwater.org/drought/>
(United States Drought Monitor Map for North Carolina)

<http://www.arborday.org/media/zones.cfm>
(The National Arbor Day Foundation Hardiness Zone Map)

http://www.ahs.org/publications/heat_zone_map.htm
(American Horticultural Society Heat Zone Map)

http://www.klru.org/ctg/guest_tips/deer_resistant.asp
(List of Deer-Resistant Plants, showing common name, botanical name, bloom color, and bloom season; does not include pH, light, or moisture requirements)

<http://www.highcountrygardens.com/>
(catalog specializing in xeric plants)

<http://www.greenprintdenver.org/environment/xeriscape.php>
(City and County of Denver, CO, plan for environment improvement and reduction of greenhouse gas emissions)

<http://www.safelawns.org/archives/newsletters/2007-Summer/index.php>
(SafeLawns Newsletter – environmentally wise lawn practices)

<http://www.sustainablesandhills.org/>
(Local organization concerned with regional sustainability, preservation of natural resources and enhanced economic development)

Web site list as of 9/21/07
Compiled by Arlene P. Hantjis
Moore County Extension Master Gardener Volunteer
(910) 235-0998
ahantjis@pinehurst.net